

THE PROS OF A SYMMETRICAL INTERNET CONNECTION

A Symmetrical Internet connection powered by TruVista gives you an equal download and upload speed. For example, with a 100/100 Mbps internet connection you get 100 Mbps of download AND 100 Mbps of upload speeds. The more devices in your home being used at the same time, the more symmetrical speed you will need to eliminate the internet bottleneck.

Reliable, fast Internet is important whether you are a student, a work from home professional, or just a serious gamer. With symmetrical speeds you get superior capabilities such as simultaneous game downloads, multiple HD streams and blazing fast uploads to cloud storage keeping your data more secure and making it easier to manage. With symmetrical speeds up to 1 Gbps, you'll upload and download with ease!

If you answer YES to any of the following, you need more speed.

- 1 Do you work from home and need to send and receive large files?
- 2 Does your household stream Videos, often on more than one TV at the same time?
- 3 Do you have children at home with gaming systems that often complain about lagging?
- 4 Do you have smart appliances in your home?

HOW MANY Mbps DO YOU REALLY NEED?

100 Mbps:

Streaming 4K video, gaming, working from home, using home security devices
*Good for 4–6 people and up to 10 devices.
Most families would be amply covered with a 100 Mbps internet connection.*

200–500 Mbps:

Streaming 4K video, gaming, running a home office, using home security & smart home devices
Good for large families with several connected devices where everyone wants to watch a different movie or show at the same time.

1,000 Mbps:

Streaming 4K video, gaming, running a home office or creative profession, using home security & smart home devices
This is usually the fastest residential internet speed available, and it's what you need if you rely on incredibly fast internet speeds for online gaming, your job, or simply because you want the best of the best.
